New York, Nov. 5.—Election day is raw and disagreeable with rain prevailing but the rain did not prevent the early voters nor did it dampen their ardor.

Reports from two thousand districts in Greater New York are that a big vote is coming in. Low, the fusion candidate for mayor, was still a favorite over the Shepard-Tammany crowd. At the Hoffman House early this morning nearly all bets have been made at ten to seven and seven and a half in favor of Low. It is estimated that a total of four hundred thousand dollars has been wagered.

"We will win" says Croker and his assistants re-echo this sentiment. Up the state municipal elections draw all interest. Troy, Albany, Syracuse, Rochester, Buffalo and other cities elect mayors. The state will choose an assembly and in the twenty-second district a successor to Shaw, republican (deceased) for congress.

Snow in Nebraska
Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 5.—Snow flurries with the mercury below freezing are the weather conditions greeting Nebraska voters today. The apathy is pronounced and a light vote is expected. Both the republican and fusion chairman are claiming the state form five to ten thousand.

Hope to Return Gorman
Baltimore, Nov. 5.—Election day opened cold and cloudy. The indications favor the legislative candidates supporting the proposition to return Gorman to the United States senate. The democrats claim the state by fifteen thousand and the city by nine. The independent ticket is being voted strongly.

Large Vote in Bay State
Boston, Nov. 5.—The ideal republican weather is bringing out a large vote. Governor Crane's plurality, it is conceded, will be reduced, but will be large enough to confirm his reelection. The campaign has been apathetic. In Boston the democrats expect a substantial majority for Quincy for mayor.

Cloudy and Cold in Iowa
Des Moines, Nov. 5.—With snow and mud in the fields it is cloudy and cold. The polls opened this morning but the early vote was light and it is apparent that it will be far less than it was last year.

Will Re-Elect Gov. Gregory
Providence, R. I., Nov. 5.—The state election will be a sweeping republican victory and the reelection of Governor Gregory.

Roosevelt Casts His Vote
New York, Nov. 5.—President Roosevelt left for Oyster Bay at nine to cast his vote.

Democratic Weather
Trenton, Nov. 5.—There is democratic weather in New Jersey with a prospect of a large vote. The rain fell in showers.

Germans Cut Gov. Nash
Cincinnati, Nov. 5.—Clear crisp weather brought out an unusually heavy vote this morning. There is a claim that Governor Nash was being cut in the German precincts.

Large Vote in Colorado
Denver, Colo., Nov. 5.—Fine weather and the prospects for a large vote good. The mayor issued a proclamation.

ation alleging that he democrats intended a fraud and calling on citizens to serve on a posse comitatus in the event of necessity.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 5.—The interest in the election today is centered on the legislative contests involving a successor to Senator Deboe. Kentucky is practically conceded to be democratic. The vote is heavy.

Columbus, O., Nov. 5.—A bright sky and a calm atmosphere in central Ohio. Early voting heavy.

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 5.—The weather is crisp and cool. The indications are for the election of the full republican ticket by a safe plurality.

Topeka, Nov. 5.—The election in Kansas is the quietest ever held. The weather is fine.

Close Election Promised

New York, Nov. 5.—This morning both sides in the municipal contest were claiming the victory. The most strenuous talk came from the fusion leaders, who were more in evidence at their headquarters than the democrats were at theirs, the latter, after the distribution of campaign funds in the afternoon, having hurried to their several election precincts to give their last orders to their followers. John A. Mason of the Shepard headquarters said he felt confident of the result, and placed the Democratic candidate's majority at 40,000.

Seth Low, the fusion candidate, at his own headquarters, said: "I think things could not look more rosy," and added: "This has been a most interesting campaign. The fight is now over, and no matter who is elected, I am sure the city will profit by the agitation of the questions which have been the main issues of the campaign."

Robert C. Morris, chairman of the republican campaign committee, stuck to his estimate of 7,000 for Mr. Low. At the democratic club last night Brooklyn was claimed for Shepard and the Democratic ticket by 3,000; majority: Queens county was claimed by 1,500 majority; Richmond by 1,000; making the total majority claimed by the democrats at the democratic club 49,733.

Notwithstanding the claims of the democrats and those of the fusionists, the election will likely be a very close one. Both sides are depending on the independent voters.

Negro Burned at the Stake
Gulf Port, Miss., Nov. 5.—An unknown negro, who assaulted a white woman after beating her into unconsciousness, was burned at the stake in Perry county, Mississippi. The crime was discovered shortly after it was committed. A posse was immediately organized and soon caught the negro, who confessed his crime. An informal court condemned the prisoner to be burned, and he was executed on the spot where the assault was committed.

Son Kills His Father
Wilmington, Ill., Nov. 5.—Dan M. Hogan, book-maker and old-time gambler is dead. He was slain by his own son, who shot to save his mother from her infuriated husband. Almost the last words Hogan spoke were: "It was my own fault. I had it coming to me." The affair took place in Hogan's house at Wilmington, Ill., early on Sunday morning. Hogan lingered in life a few hours. A coroner's jury exonerated the boy.

Lord Roberts May Retire
London, Nov. 5.—At the service clubs it is rumored that Lord Roberts is anxious to retire. He has never intended to remain the full period at the war office, and he is credited with a desire to pass the winter of his days in quiet retirement in India. While the war lasts, however, it is almost certain the commander-in-chief will not leave his post, reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Chicago Horse Show
Chicago, Nov. 5.—Society queens, social lions, horse kings, and king horse divided the honors at the opening of the second annual horse show at the Coliseum, and each in their particular sphere outshone anything ever seen before on a similar occasion. Each was at its best and each unselfishly accorded the other honor when and where honor was due.

JUDGMENT OF $5,000 AGAINST CITY OF JANESVILLE AFFIRMED

Supreme Court Sustains the Decision of the Circuit Court in the Case of Anna E. Davey—John Barlass vs. Frank Kargus Also Affirmed.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 5.—(Special)—The supreme court today issued a writ of habeas corpus which will test the right of the state board of control to transfer prisoners from the state reformatory at Green Bay to the state prison at Waupun. The writ was issued in the case of George Linden sent up with two others from Fond du Lac county in 1899, for burglary to the reformatory, on an indeterminate sentence of one to five years. In January, 1900, Linden was transferred to prison by order of the board of control and approval of the governor. Attorney McPhail, who applied for the writ, contended that this is vesting judicial power in the board, and is unconstitutional.

Alfred A. Jackson, of Janesville, was appointed a member of the state board of law examiners by the supreme court today, to succeed John L. Erdall, who recently removed from this city to St. Paul. No decision was handed down by the supreme court in the suit to test the constitutionality of the act creating Gates county.

BOTHA'S DEFIANCE TO KITCHENER; BRITISH ARE CALLED OUTLAWS

English General's Proclamation Has Strengthened Determination of All Burghers to Resist to the End—Orders to Shoot Armed Englishmen.

Paris, Nov. 5.—The text of General Botha's counter proclamation to Lord Kitchener's recent proclamation has reached here. It was issued on Sept. 15. It declares:

"Whereas, no official of the Orange Free State or the Transvaal Republic, and no general, commandant or burgher intends to obey Lord Kitchener's proclamation or to trouble with it. And, whereas, the proclamation contains falsehoods, habitual to the English. And, whereas, Lord Kitchener's proclamation has strengthened the determination of all burghers to resist to the end, now.

"Therefore, I, Louis Botha, commandant-general of the Republic of the Orange Free State, and burghers of both republics, proclaim Lord Kitchener, his staff, and the officers and soldiers serving under his orders and fighting us now, to be outlaws in South Africa, and all officers and burghers in the two republics and in Cape Colony are ordered to shoot every armed Englishman whom they meet."

THREE PORTS SEIZED BY FRANCE; TURKEY LOOKS TO GREAT BRITAIN

Serious War is Brewing in the East—As Soon as the First Gun is Fired, All the European Powers Will Have Become Involved.

Paris, Nov. 5.—The French squadron under Admiral Caillaud sent to make a demonstration in Turkish waters has seized the three principal ports on the island of Mytilene in the Grecian archipelago.

It is understood that Turkey looks to Great Britain to help her out of the present difficulty.

Paris Greatly Excited
Officials of the foreign office were importuned by excited crowds all through the day and the reticence they have shown in discussing the promise of a conflict in the Orient has but added fuel to the flames in imaginative minds.

Nearly every person met seems convinced that a war is brewing; many are equally positive that so soon as a gun of Turk or Frenchman is fired all the European powers will become involved in a war that cannot be concluded without tremendous cost and loss of life, while the map not alone of Turkey but of a large portion of Europe may be so changed as to be almost unrecognizable.

According to a semi-official statement issued today France's demand on Turkey has lost all personal character and are now those of a nation. There now remain three principal points at issue that he religious protectorate of France in the Orient, be respected, that the Porte assures free workings of French schools and respect for the rights of the medical faculty at Beyrouth.

Death of R. O. Jeardeau
Milwaukee, Nov. 5.—Richard O. Jeardeau, at one time a member of the state board of arbitration, died at Excelsior Springs, Mo., Saturday, of a liver complaint, after a long illness. The body has been taken to Platteville, his old home, where the funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon. Jeardeau was 53 years of age and was born in Dodgeville. HALE NOT YET CAPTURED

Desperate Win Killed Two Men Before Pursuing Posse.

Roanoke, Va., Nov. 5.—The man hunt in Franklin county for William Hale, who fired a shotgun into a political meeting at the little town of Ferrum Saturday night, killing two men was still going on at 11 o'clock a. m. when the telegraph operator at Ferrum sent word to the Associated Press correspondent that the man had not yet been captured. Hale was located in the mountains, six miles from Ferrum, before daylight today, in company with Larkin Saunders, a brother of Hale's wife. Both men were heavily armed, and when the posse came within shooting distance the outlaws fired on them. The posse returned the fire, shooting in the direction from which the gunflash came. Saunders was wounded and captured, but Hale got away in the darkness. None of the posse was wounded. It is raining in that section and this prevents the bloodhounds following the trail. Saunders says Hale has a double-barreled breech-loading shotgun and plenty of shells, and will not be taken alive.

ONE MORE ELECTRIC LAKE GENEVA LINE

Milwaukee Common Council Asked to Grant Another Road Franchise to Summer Resort City.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 5.—The crop of Lake Geneva electric and other transportation lines is large this fall. Attorney John Donovan added another to the list at the council meeting yesterday afternoon. The route covers practically the same territory as the second franchise applied for by the Milwaukee and Lake Geneva railway last June, which was asked for by Wheeler and Perry. Mr. Donovan said that he would give little information in regard to those back of the project, aside from the fact that they were eastern men with plenty of capital.

DUCK HUNTER IS LOST IN THE LAKE

John J. Dapper, a Milwaukee City Official, is Missing—Fears That He Has Perished.

Milwaukee, Nov. 5.—John J. Dapper, a member of Mayor Rose's party at Shawano, is missing, and it is feared that he has perished. Dapper, who has been connected with the water department for fifteen years, went out in a duck boat yesterday after ducks, and shortly after a heavy storm swept over the lake. Two other men who were out at the same time managed to get back to camp, but nothing has been heard of Dapper. Last evening his skiff and cartridge bags were found and a thorough search is being made for him by a large party. Dapper has a wife and two grown children.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—A murder mystery presaging a Mafia development became public this morning when the body of Antonio Napoli was found rammed into a four barrel with his head nearly severed on the prairie of the north-west side. DEAD ON THE BACK OF A CYCLIST; WHEELMAN RIDES WITH A CORPSE

E. S. Wilson Meets Sick Stranger Near New London Wis., and Starts Out for a Doctor.

New London, Wis., Nov. 5.—E. S. Wilson of this place rode into Hortonville yesterday morning with a dead man on his back.

Wilson is an agent and is canvassing the country. When two miles from Hortonville he saw a man staggering along the road. The actions of the man attracted his attention and dismounting from his wheel, he was about to ask the man what was the matter, when the stranger fell in the road.

Assuring himself that it was not a case of intoxication and that the man was really sick, Wilson raised him up and placed him on the bicycle. Then, getting on the wheel in front of him, he told the stranger to put his arm around his neck and hold on to him. The man fastened himself tightly

WHAT CAN LAW DO WITH ANARCHY?

Supreme Court Justice Bardeen Makes an Address at Madison.

WANTS STRICT LAW

Smarting Under Real or Imaginary Wrongs, People Are Cranks, Then Anarchists.

ANARCHY AN EXOTIC

Madison, Wis., Nov. 5.—(Special)—At the dinner of the Six O'clock club last evening Justice C. V. Bardeen of the supreme court spoke on "What Can the Law Do With Anarchy?" The dinner was a large affair, the club including the greater part of the business and professional men of the city, and Judge Bardeen's address was listened to with close attention and aroused no little comment.

"The law is impotent," he declared, "to deal with the cause of anarchy. Our constitution guarantees freedom of thought and speech, and laws against believing and teaching that anarchy as a philosophical or political system as an ideal condition would be obnoxious thereto. But he showed the distinction between philosophical anarchy, which is opposed to government but does not counsel force, and communistic anarchy, which advocates assassination, and which 'is philosophical anarchy sown in the brain of fanatics.'"

Stringent Immigration Laws
This latter phase can be reached by law which would punish by death or life imprisonment "any person who shall advocate, counsel, advise or by expressing approval, encourage, any act or policy of assassination, murder or assault upon the president of the United States or any other officer or person as a means of overthrowing the government." The deportation of anarchists is impracticable under our constitution, he said, but he believed in more stringent immigration laws.

American anarchy is an exotic, Judge Bardeen said; anarchy is of foreign birth. But he suggested a possible danger when he said: "So long as injustice, unfairness and partiality exist, just so long there will be people in rebellion against law. Smarting under real or imaginary wrongs, people become cranks, from cranky conditions the anarchist develops."

Judge Bardeen concluded as follows:

Safety of Civilization

"I repeat, the safety of civilization does not demand measures that are not in harmony with our constitutional guarantees. The exigencies are such, however, as to demand strict laws and strict enforcement. Such laws should be without drapery or furbelows. They should be sharp, incisive, definite, and as broad as the constitution will permit and prescribing such punishment as shall render a repetition of the offense impossible."

"The gravity of the offense being great the punishment should 'fit the crime.' Mere fine or temporary imprisonment will not do. The offender should be disposed of that thenceforth his usefulness as an anarchist will be at an end forever. Anything short of death or life imprisonment would be inadequate." A suggestion has been made that in lieu of a better remedy, resort be had to the old and homely one of binding them over to keep the peace. No good reason is perceived why this may not be done. The details of such a scheme are easily worked out, and its enforcement would certainly have a repressive tendency.

Vigilance of the People

"The plan might be broadened so as to reach all classes where resistance to law by violent means is advised or counseled, and to cover cases where such acts are committed in public speech or by public counsel. The law might also very properly deny them the use of the mails for the dissemination or circulation of."

DENSE FOG COVERS GREAT BRITAIN; TRAFFIC IN CITIES AT STANDSTILL

Lanterns at a Premium—People Compelled to Grope Through Streets—Harvest for Highwaymen.

London, November 5.—A fog such as Great Britain had not experienced for years enveloped London and half of the United Kingdom today, blocking shipping, deranging railways and throwing business into confusion in London, Birmingham and other provincial cities.

So dense was it that a walk into the streets was an adventure. The fog descended upon the metropolis and suburbs so thickly that between 4 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon the principal avenues of traffic resembled the steamroom of a Turkish bath. Hundreds of thousands of London's suburban population vainly endeavored to grope their way to the railway stations. The few who succeeded found the trains all stalled.

Around Trafalgar Square and the houses of parliament scenes unparalleled for years were witnessed. Hundreds of omnibuses, carts and wagons formed an inextricable and immovable mass. The mounted police in trying to clear away the jam lost themselves. Many vehicles were in collision. The drivers, not knowing where they were, stood at the heads of their horses patiently awaiting the lifting of the premature darkness.

Lanterns were at a premium, newsboys transformed their papers into temporary torches, highwaymen pursued their vocation, casualties were frequent and even hardened Londoners freely expressed a dread of the continuation of such fogs as today reached a climax.

Jennings, La., Nov. 5.—Fire started early in the restaurant of J. F. Dudley. The loss is estimated at half a million dollars, with insurance of about one-half. The heaviest individual loser is A. D. McFarland, $70,000. The houses destroyed were not of a substantial character, and the fire spread so quickly that there was small chance to save anything. There was no loss of life.

Every woman in the country ought to know about

Mother's Friend

Those who do know about it wonder how they ever got along without it. It has robbed childbirth of its terrors for many a young wife. It has preserved her girlish figure and saved her much suffering. It is an external liniment and carries with it therefore, absolutely no danger of upsetting the system as drugs taken internally are apt to do. It is to be rubbed into the abdomen to soften and strengthen the muscles which are to bear the strain. This means much less pain. It also prevents morning sickness and all of the other discomforts of pregnancy. A druggist at Macon, Ga., says: "I have sold a large quantity of Mother's Friend and have never known an instance where it has failed to produce the good results claimed for it."

A prominent lady of Lamberton, Ark., writes: "With my first six children I was in labor from 24 to 30 hours. After using Mother's Friend, my seventh was born in 4 hours."

There is every reason to believe that the two have perished.

Jumbo II. Assaults Keeper.

Jumbo II, said to be the largest elephant in captivity, became furious in his quarters at the exposition grounds in Buffalo and nearly killed his keeper, Henry Mullen. The animal is always kept tightly chained, and when Mullen was at work in the elephants' stall the beast seized him in his trunk and hurled him to the floor. He tried vainly to trample on the keeper, but the chains held fast, although some of the stakes to which they were fastened were broken. It was impossible for him to step on Mullen or to gore him, so the elephant lashed him with his trunk. Mullen is now in the Emergency hospital with four broken ribs, a broken ankle and severe wounds about the head and face. He will recover.

The Yukon River is still open and two more boats left this week for Dawson. The Hora came up the river, arriving last Saturday night. The weather was quite moderate when the steamer left and there were crowds of people who still wished to come out.

MCKINLEY MEMORIAL OFFERING

The following is the form of subscription blanks sent out by the National Memorial association.

The undersigned, residents of _____, State of Wisconsin, hereby subscribe the sum set opposite our names for the purpose of erecting a suitable memorial to the memory of our late lamented president, William McKinley, in accordance with the plans of the McKinley National Memorial association which contemplates a monument at Canton, and a suitable memorial at Washington.

FRED A. DENNETT.

The Sheboygan Telegram devotes a couple of columns to discussing an ideal republican candidate for governor, and after saying some nice things about Mr. Whitehead, Mr. Alexander and others, whose names have been mentioned in this connection, the paper proposes the name of Fred A. Dennett, the present mayor of Sheboygan, and ex-state senator.

Mr. Dennett is an old resident of the state and enjoys a wide acquaintance. He is a self made product of Wisconsin soil, and has contributed much to the prosperity of his home city. He is a conservative, level headed republican, and would doubtless make an ideal governor, as the Telegram suggests. But the paper should remember that the party is not called upon to either nominate or elect a governor this year, and it is neither good politics nor wise judgment to advance the interests of a prospective candidate at the present time.

The Gazette will repeat what it had occasion to say recently on the same topic, that the state has a republican governor, elected by the unanimous vote of the republican party, and while he has made himself unpopular with the large conservative element of the party, that the time has not yet arrived to talk about his successor.

The party has been rent with factional fights for a number of years. They have been a source of regret, as well as a menace to the party and never more so than today. It may not be possible to heal these differences and unite on a friendly basis. While the outlook is not encouraging, time alone can determine. When the last effort is exhausted, then, and not till then, will the time have arrived to select a successor to Governor La Follette.

Party harmony, secured on a fair and equitable basis, is worth more to Wisconsin republicanism, than anything else that can come to it.

The Republican league is organized in the interests of the party. The administration had the misfortune to repel a large element of the party, and a nucleus was needed where the scattered forces could rally and save the party to itself. If the governor possesses the wisdom to profit by the lessons of experience, it is possible for harmony to come out of discord even at this late day. He is entitled to consideration, until he says by final action, "I am greater than the party that honored me with high office." His attitude thus far has been antagonistic, and it may continue to be, but he should be given the benefit of the doubt, until the time comes for action. When that time arrives if it becomes necessary to select a new man to succeed him, a number of names will be suggested, and the southern part of the state will be represented. The talk at the present time is premature, and only adds fuel to the flame that is not suffering for combustible material. Time rights many wrongs. It may aid in some miraculous way in adjusting party grievances in Wisconsin.

HIT OR MISS SPELLING.
A dissatisfied mother has been telling the Chicago Post about Tommy's fearful and wonderful spelling which he had learned by what is called, we believe the "visualization" method. Tommy was put through a little examination at home and toed the mark with all confidence. He said he could spell most anything, and he could in the free and independent fashion common to visualizers. He is a good, strong, courageous speller who props up "rugs" by making "rugs" and "street" by making it "strent."

Tommy cannot tell why he rejects the vulgar, old fashioned spelling. In fact, he does not seem to consider "the why" of the things that he is supposed to learn. Probably he pumps his elders like other boys, but reason in connection with letters is wholly unknown to him. He merely takes the pictures, hit or miss, and is growing up with a lot of chaotic impressionistic sketches to deck his correspondence with in the place of words.

But he will not be alone in this display of an ignorance which is such a shame to any self-respecting man that he would rather pay a good round sum of money than make one single slip in spelling from the beginning to the end of a long letter. Chicago abounds in Tommies who are being visualized into a state of imbecility as regards spelling. There are whole groups of words which they mix and jumble in hopeless confusion. "Was" may stand for "was" or for "saw." Such inversions are of the commonest occurrence, and stranger still, in a sense quite new, "first" may be "last" and "last" may be "first." A dim association of ideas is discernible in these blunders, but often there is nothing for it but bold, bad guesswork.

We are aware that there is much seriousness back of the system, but seriousness is an attribute which man shares in common with other animals whose ears are longer, and sometimes it strikes in too deep. The impressionist school with all its pretensions is in fact a silly school, and its method is a sloppy method, which is despised not only by parents, but by many an unfortunate teacher who is compelled to resort to the old drill in secret in order that she may not be disgraced by the results of visualization. How long is the tomfoolery to last which makes such tricks necessary?—Chicago Record-Herald.

Oshkosh has added to her reputation through the advice of a young lady school teacher, to her white scholars. A number of colored scholars are in attendance, and the girl suggested that they be permitted to flock by themselves. The parents are naturally indignant, and are waiting for an apology, which the girl, who is from the south, declines to give. The race war is not confined to New Orleans.

The international automobile race, between Paris and Berlin, was won by a Frenchman in two hours less time than the fastest express. One hundred and twenty-seven machines entered the contest. The average speed was forty-five miles per hour and much of the distance was made at the rate of sixty miles. Several people were killed, but that frequently happens at a football game.

Governor Durbin of Indiana refuses to grant extradition papers for ex-Governor Taylor of Kentucky, on the ground that a partisan court would convict him before he was tried. Kentucky justice has descended from the high standard that it once occupied and it today recognized as a travesty.

The man who don't believe in advertising should consult W. H. Willson of Madison. He wanted a wife, and said so through the papers. Fifteen hundred replies rolled in and a bushel of photographs. He selected a woman from England, who came across the water to help him make a home.

The result of the election in New York City today will determine whether Tammany, or the better element, shall rule. For the welfare of the city it is to be hoped that Mr. Lowe will be successful. The patronage of New York is greater than that of any state, and it has long been noted for corruption.

Ludington, Mich., has an association composed of 200 families, that employs a physician by the year, at a salary of $1,800. Each family pays monthly dues of fifty cents. That may not be called a trust, but it is a combination that physicians do not take to very kindly.

The factional fight in Ohio that so long menaced the republican party has been happily settled, and the campaign just closed has been harmonious. The state will remain in the republican column.

Governor Shaw of Iowa will be succeeded by Mr. Cummins, the republican candidate. Free silver has demoralized democracy in the state, and prohibition as an ally, is not strong.

Gorman is basing his hopes on the disfranchisement of the colored vote in Maryland. If the same test of illiteracy is applied to the whites, the state will have a new senator.

The Chicago & Northwestern Railroad company has voluntarily raised the wages of a large number of faithful employees, and yet it is said that corporations have no souls.

The Pan-American went out in a blaze of glory, and a night of revelry. The memory of the six months' celebration will linger as a night mare to investors for years to come.

The election in Nebraska is not of vital importance, and results either way will not be regarded as significant.

PRESS COMMENT.

La Crosse Republican and Leader: When Editor Bryan wanted something substantial in the building line he sent for a consignment of Wisconsin granite.

Marquette Eagle: It is reported that Governor La Follette will not call an extra session of the legislature. The governor does not want to see any more of that legislature than he has to.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Fournier wants $50,000 damages for being run down by a locomotive. As this French automaniac is in the habit of scorching about the country like a tornado on wheels, the jury ought to award him about three cents.

Milwaukee Journal: It will be welcome news to a whole lot of prominent La Follette men to be assured, by the Milwaukee administration organ, that Col. Murphy "is on good terms" with them. They would be happy, no doubt, to be able to return the compliment.

Ashland Press: Grover Cleveland shakes hands with himself every time he contemplates the leadership condition of the democratic party.

Green Bay Gazette: Pat Crowe has proved himself a mighty mean man. After having the fatted calf killed in expectation of his return the noted kidnaper fails to show up as per agreement. Pat is something of a humorist as well as a kidnaper.

La Crosse Republican and Leader: If the exposition has really been worth $500,000,000 in advertising to Buffalo, as President Milburn asserts, that city got off dirt cheap. The country press should put in a bill for space.

Beloit Free Press: The word comes from Madison that Governor La Follette will not call an extra session of the legislature. When one recalls the conditions which existed between the governor and the legislature when it was in regular session last winter, the sending out of such "word" seems quite unnecessary.

Green Bay Gazette: Governor La Follette has determined not to call an extra session of the legislature for the purpose of attempting to force through that body some of his pet measures. The governor has given over the chance for a grand stand play, but he has shown evidence of wisdom or of good counsel.

Appleton Post: Henry C. Payne must be surprised that he can be identified with any undertaking without drawing the fire of the esteemed half-breed brethren. He has been appointed by the president as trustee for Wisconsin for raising a McKinley memorial fund and, of course, is making a success of the work, but so far he has escaped the censure of the afore-said brethren. Such self-restraint must be a severe tax upon them.

Surprised at Simple Courtesy. Ashland Press: A number of papers speak gratefully and approvingly of the act of Governor La Follette in shaking hands with the secretary of state upon his arrival at Madison after his long illness. This act of courtesy must be very foreign to the character of the governor, by the way it is commented upon. It is mentioned by a number of papers to mean that that governor is possibly considering the advisability of taking that perpetual chip off his shoulder, and of withdrawing the standing challenge, "don't tread on the tail of my coat!"

Nature Mised One Gift. Sheboygan Telegram: Nature gifted La Follette with wisdom and understanding, but failed to endow him with that proper judgment that sees in compromise often the stepping stone for realization of pet ideas. Were he less stubborn and obstinate, were he less engrossed in himself and his hobbies, it can be confidently stated that he would have accomplished more. He owes it to the state that has so highly honored him to make use of the abilities he has in a well directed effort for the people's welfare instead of their exploitation of his hobby horses. But his past history gives assurance of one thing and one thing only, and that he cannot see farther than himself. His friends regret this falling as much as any, for translated into plain terms it means that he has committed political suicide.

Brother Dickey's View Of It. "Dey tol' me dat de war wuz 'de Spaniels wuz over too long ago ter talk 'bout," said Brother Dickey, "but I has come ter de conclusion dat dey has made some mistakes—dey only moved de war ter Washington so dat Mr. Roosevelt, what can't be in it no mo', hein' president, kin superintend it endurin' recess, when he ain't runnin' de gov'ment. Mr. Dewey slayed de Philistines—all right, en he tol' 'em 'I done it, en don't you say I didn't!' 'En hit wuz all right, en de war wuz over fur him, en he come home en said to de congress: 'Gimme dat gold sword you got fer me, en dat house you buyed fer me, en dat parade you promised me, en den make me president er de country fer what I be'n a-doin' fer you, en den I'll settle down on you fer life en live reasonable!' But Mr. Sampson he flourished his jaw bone en 'low dat de Spaniels en dis side de water wuz his meat; den Mr. Shley say dey wuz his'n, en 'ner man 'low dey wuz his, kaze he kilt 'em, en counted 'em, en cooked 'em brown!' So, 'since dey can't satisfy no one er 'em, de gov'ment 'cided dat de bes' ting ter do wuz ter fight de war over at de expens er de public. De only trouble 'bout it is hits a war in which dey ain't no pensions, only cussin' en swearin' en talkin'—en dat's cheap er cotton is at fo' cents a pound."—Atlanta Constitution.

Disproves Dr. Koch's Theory. New York, Nov. 5.—Positive signs of tuberculosis have appeared in the cow that was inoculated with germs by Dr. George D. Barney of Brooklyn several days ago. Dr. Barney will permit the signs to become more pronounced, and will then kill the cow and hold an autopsy. Dr. Barney is now certain that he has disproved Dr. Koch's theory that human tuberculosis and bovine tuberculosis are not intercommunicable. The cow was inoculated by Dr. Barney about ten days ago. On Saturday last it began to show a fever, and now all the known signs of tuberculosis are apparent in the beast. Dr. Barney said that he had no doubt that the autopsy to be performed would prove beyond doubt the fallacy of Dr. Koch's theory.

Forbes Wins from Attell. St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 5.—Harry Forbes of Chicago received the decision over Abe Attell of San Francisco at the end of fifteen rounds of fast milling at the West End club. The bout was one of the very best seen here in a number of years. The fortunes of war shifted from one principal to the other throughout, and it was only Forbes' superior strength that finally brought him victory in the closing stages. Attell had Forbes all but out in the second round, forcing the Chicagoan to take the count. The Californian weakened under heavy punishment toward the close of the bout, the bell saving him on two or three occasions. The boys fought at 116 pounds.

Miss Stone Is Seen. Samakoff, Bulgaria, Nov. 5.—Miss Ellen M. Stone and Mrs. Talika have been seen within the last two days by emissaries sent by American Diplomatic Agent Dickinson from Sofia to treat with the brigands who abducted the missionaries about a ransom for the American woman. Both captives are safe and well. It is expected that their release will be arranged soon. Constantinople, Nov. 5.—Nothing is publicly known here, beyond what has already been cabled to the United States, regarding the whereabouts and fate of Miss Ellen M. Stone, the abducted American missionary, or the progress of the negotiations for her ransom. In the absence of news there is considerable disquietude.

Denies Acts of Barbarity. London, Nov. 5.—A dispatch from Berlin to the London Times quotes an article in the Vossische Zeitung, referring to the prosecution of two Stuttgart journalists for libeling the German troops in China. The Vossische Zeitung says: "There is no question of barbarity in connection with the conduct of the campaign. There is no ground for the supposition that the troops of other nations were more humane in their conduct than those of Germany."

A Fine Baby

Makes any mother proud. There are a great many proud mothers whose children have been puny and sickly until they began the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

"I was left in a weak run down condition," says Maria O. Hayzel, writing from Brookland, D.C. "My health seemed utterly gone. I suffered from nervousness, female weakness and rheumatism. Life was a burden. I doctored with three different physicians and got no relief. I tried several patent medicines, all with the same result. I began to get worse and to add to the complications I suffered terribly from constipation. I changed to see one of your advertisements and I commenced to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Pleasant Pellets' and began to improve right away, and could now improve and gain in strength. I cannot express the relief. It was so great. Seven months later my little daughter was born without much trouble. I feel that I would never have been able to endure my confinement only by the help due solely to Dr. Pierce's medicines. She was a fine healthy child and the only one I have ever been able to nurse. She is now two years old and I have never had to take any medicine since, so I feel that your medicine has made a lasting cure with me."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to defray expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper binding, or 31 stamps for cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo N. Y.

WOMEN PROMOTE FOREIGN MISSIONS

METHODIST SOCIETY FOR JANESVILLE MEETS.

Preliminary Steps This Afternoon Toward Organization For a Three Days' Session—Memorial Services Held—Letters From the Field—Program Tonight and Tomorrow.

A band of earnest women, representing the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church of the Janesville district and animated by the missionary spirit gathered at the First M. E. church this afternoon at 2 o'clock for the opening session of the twenty-eight annual district convention of the society which they serve as delegates.

About fifty ladies from out of the city were present at the convention this afternoon and over twice that number are expected to be in attendance at tomorrow's sessions. The Beloit auxiliary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society sends the largest delegation to the convention and when the entire delegation arrives there will be about twenty-five ladies present from the Line City.

A delegation of nine ladies from the Sharon auxiliary arrived this morning and other societies in the district are likewise largely represented.

The session this afternoon opened with a half-hour devotional service led by Mrs. M. A. Marshall, of Beloit, who served the district organization for many years as president and was elected president emeritus last year when she found it impossible for her to accept the responsibilities of the active presidency.

Mrs. W. W. Stevens of Kenosha, president of the district organization, being unable to be present, Mrs. T. W. North, of Milton, the first vice president, was the presiding officer and took charge of the meeting immediately after the devotional service. The convention organized by the election of Mrs. Wilford, of Beloit, as secretary pro tem, Mrs. J. J. Lugg, formerly of Lyons, now of Milwaukee, the recording secretary having been removed from the district.

A letter of greeting from Mrs. W. Stevens of Kenosha was read by Mrs. E. S. McChesney, who was instructed to answer the letter in behalf of the convention. After this letter the roll of half of the societies in the district were called and in response to this roll interesting and brief reports were given.

Mrs. L. M. Wheeler of Lake Mills gave a resume of the work done by the society and of the outlook for the future under the title "A Look Backward and Forward." Interesting letters from the foreign field were read and the afternoon session closed with the transaction of considerable routine business.

The Present Officials
The programs for this evening and tomorrow are especially fine. The annual election of officers will be held tomorrow morning the present district officers being:

Mrs. W. W. Stevens, recently of this city, but now of Kenosha, president.
Mrs. M. A. Marshall, Beloit, president emerita.

Mrs. Maria Le Douz, Fort Atkinson, corresponding secretary and chairman of the mission box committee.

Mrs. J. J. Lugg, formerly of Lyons, now of Milwaukee, recording secretary.

Mrs. T. W. North, Milton; Miss Carrie Spooner, Delavan; and Mrs. E. S. McChesney, Janesville, vice presidents.

Mrs. W. J. Kalghis, Janesville, chairman literature committee.

Mrs. E. W. Lowell, Janesville, chairman photograph committee.

This Evening and Tomorrow

The evening sessions will doubtless prove the most attractive to the public and the reception and entertainment given by the local societies this evening in honor of the visiting delegates will repay one's effort to be in attendance. The principal feature of tomorrow evening's program will be the address by Mrs. Denning, recently returned from India. She comes to the people of Janesville very highly recommended as a speaker at her lectures are full of thrilling accounts of her life and experiences in India. JANESVILLE MEN TO HUNT THE DEER

A Party of Nine Local Gentlemen Are Completing Arrangements for the Woods.

A party of nine gentlemen are completing arrangements to spend the deer hunting season at Camp Kenosha, the camp which is owned by the Janesville gentlemen in the pine woods in the northern part of the state. The party includes W. H. Appleby, Dr. E. D. Roberts, Dr. J. W. St. John, C. L. Valentine, Ed. Parker, Sanford Soverhill, J. A. Sutherland, H. G. Carter and J. O. Davidson, of Madison, state treasurer. They will leave Friday morning and spend about twenty days in quest of venison. Four great packing boxes loaded with provisions will accompany the party and even if deer are scarce the indications are that no one will go hungry.

Camp Kenosha is in the southern part of Forest county, nineteen miles from Waubesa, the nearest railway station. The camp is kept open the year round, the owners keeping a man and their own team of horses on the premises so that whenever any of them want to go to camp it is ready for them. The hired man does the cooking for them so that the sportsmen have no cares but can spend the entire day in pursuit of game.

COSTLY FUNERAL CAR

Finest of its kind ever brought to Janesville—Outlay involves $1,800. At a cost of $1,800 the local undertaking and livery firm of Nelson Bros. have made the purchase of a funeral car of the Chicago firm of James Cunningham & Son & Company. Although plain in appearance one does not need to take a second glance to figure out the involved cost. Plain black is the color. The drivers' seat is heavily draped with deep mourning cloth which is bordered with a heavy deep fringe. Costly silver lamps are mounted one on each side of the seat. The heavy wheels are rubber tired while silver mounts each hub. Plate glass windows are on each side of the car as well as in the rear doors which are each operated by automatic springs. The interior is finished in walnut. Here one observes the latest apparatus for handling the casket. The interior on both sides is gracefully draped in black broadcloth. Costly silver mountings extend along both sides of the interior. Rich wood carvings on the sides and rear offset the plainness. The car is the finest in this portion of the state. Nelson Bros. also have a small white hearse that is called into service in handling small caskets.
